

I was born in Belgrade, finished Faculty of Philology and I'm fluent in English and Spanish. I was very young when I started working as a tourist guide in Yugoslavia in 1985, with the biggest companies of the time. That's how I have become familiar with all the countries in our surroundings. During all these years I have been travelling through all ex-Yugoslavian countries and apart from knowing history and culture, I know a lot of legends, anecdotes, everyday-life and many other funny and interesting things. For that reason I work with both, the young and the elderly clients, who, if they decide to return, always ask for my guiding to other places in the region.

I have guided a lot of journalists for tourist promotion of Serbia; therefore, maybe you have already read my words in some of magazine articles on Serbia or Belgrade. I have also guided many tourist professionals, and diplomatic representatives. Now, I mostly work with clients from ship cruises, but I also travel through all the Balkans and nearby countries. Speaking these very much spread foreign languages, I have had various opportunities to meet different cultures and customs, to learn about them and get familiar with them.

Balkans' stunning beauties will surprise you on each step you make, especially if you have somebody who can bring you its colors and flavors. I believe that people are what make your memories last forever, so I try hard to give you a lot of information having a good time.
