ENRIKO HORVAT

At the age of 11, Enriko Horvat started to learn to play tambouritza and traditional instruments of the Balkans in the Mladost Cultural Center in Futog. He learned the first steps of music in the School of Jelena Šćitaroci Obad, the renown ethno pedagogist and the wife of Zdenko Šćitaroci Obad – the former chief musician of the Large tambouritza Orchestra of the Radio-Television of Vojvodina, which succeeded the world famous tambouritza player Janika Balaz.

Enriko Horvat improved his music skills and qualifications while was playing in the Orchestra of the Cultural-artistic Society of „Svetozar Marković“ Novi Sad, and also in the „Marko Nešić“ large tambouritza orchestra, and the „Ljube“ Choir.

The last 15 years Enriko is the member of the famous „Zorule“ Orchestra, one of the best tambouritza orcheastras in Vojvodina and Serbia. Being the full member of the „Zorule“ Orchestra, they makeconcerts and closely cooperate with a number of the most reputed performers and artists of the music world of Serbia : Đorđe Balašević, Legende Music Group, Zvonko Bogdan, Merima Njegomir and other music stars. Besides playing his favorite instrument - the tamburitza, Enriko Horvat took part in shooting the film music which enabled him to cooperate with the world known musicians of the Ethno music style, such are Marta Sebešćan and Georgi Zamfir.

Enriko Horvat had accomplished CD recording with the Music group „Krivokletnik“. With his wife Aleksandra, professor of flute, as instrumental duo which plays evergreen and popular classical music, Enriko performs in many festivals, cultural occasions and concerts. Enriko Horvat is, so far, engaged for more than 30 years in the tambouritza music as the prior qualification, along with playing other string instruments in traditional style. Enriko Horvat works in the Serbian National Theater in Novi Sad.
